The 575M Maranello is essentially a much modified and updated 550 Maranello, with the engine enlarged to 5748cc and the M designation meaning Modificato. Although the styling is similar to its predecessor, mechanically the 575M is much more sophisticated with electronically controlled systems throughout improving suspension response, acceleration and gear shift times. Now 508 hp from the larger engine with larger intake & exhaust manifolds and bigger brakes, the 575M had the shortest production time of all the modern front engine V12 coupes, just 4yrs.
